We Only Heard

BY BILL RODGERS

IT WAS a good one - the 1971 Porterville fair, what with more commercial exhibits of much better quality than last year; an excellent professional show (although the pre-show, local entertainment was too drawn out Friday night); high-quality livestock, as usual, and a very fine sale that totalled $47,087.44; locally-operated food concessions that were in the gourmet category; and a bright, lively carnival.

THE CROWD - and there most certainly was a crowd, probably a record - was congenial and good-natured with no threat of rough stuff that has hit fairs in other parts of the state; the various youth organizations and school exhibits were good; special entertainment features of the fair came off well . . . it was a family fun fair in '71.

A START was made toward certain major improvements on the fair grounds, notably the newly fenced horse show arena with its first section of "permanent portable" bleachers, constructed by members of the Porterville Fair Quarter Horse Show committee. Other improvements did not quite come through, but there is already talk about next year.

OF REAL significance was what seemed to be a rebirth of cooperation from Future Farmer

WE DIDN'T QUITE MAKE IT

What with rushing around working for the fair, and what with running out of space, we didn't get in all the '71 fair pictures we intended to. We'll try to come up next week with some of the things we should have had this week.

PORTERVILLE RODEO IS READY TO GO

PORTERVILLE — Professional cowboys will be working for prize money and world championship points at 24th annual Porterville Rodeo, set for Friday, May 28, and Saturday, May 29, in the Rocky Hill arena east of Porterville.

Both rodeo performances will be held at night, with a colorful grand entry set for 8 p.m.

Sponsored by Porterville Jaycees, the RCA-approved rodeo will feature the rough and ready stock of the Golden State Rodeo company. Calling the action on the arena microphone will be Announcer Mack Lochrie.

Special arena attraction will be Danny Dent and his trained Brahma bull, "Poncho," a 1,600 pound critter that performs a number of tricks, highlighted by a jump through fire. Dent will also perform as rodeo clown and bull fighter.

Royalty for the rodeo includes Laurie Johnston, queen; Jolene Carothers and Hope Henschel, princesses; and Janice Taylor and Jeanette Cantrell, attendants.

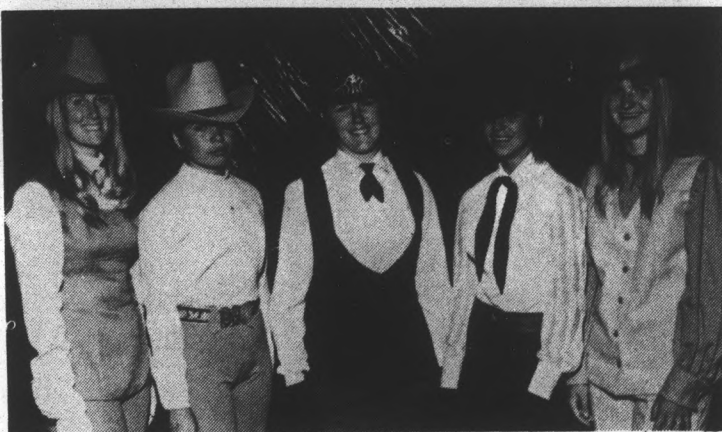

Rodeo parade, with 13 divisions, will move through downtown Porterville at 10 a.m., Saturday, May 29, with Tulare County Sheriff Bob Wiley riding as grand marshal. Escorting him will be the entire Tulare County Sheriff's Posse.

Keith Hansen, rodeo chairman, states that admission charges will be $2.00 for adults; $1.00 for children, 6-12 years; and no charge for children under six years.

As a Friday night special, all children will be admitted free when accompanied by an adult paying regular admission.

Proceeds from the rodeo go into the Porterville Jaycee's community projects fund.

ROYALTY FOR PORTERVILLE RODEO

"PONCHO" AND DANNY AT RODEO

DANNY DENT will have a busy two nights at the 24th annual Porterville Rodeo, Friday, May 28 and Saturday, May 29, appearing as rodeo clown and bull fighter, also presenting the featured arena act - "Poncho," a 1,600 pound, performing Brahma bull. Dent started training Poncho six years ago when the bull was a small calf and has taught him a series of tricks, including a jump through fire. Dent, who was born in Carlsbad, New Mexico and who lived on the Mescalero Indian Reservation until he was five years old, is a second generation rodeo performer and competitor.

TULE RIVER COOPERATIVE GINS INC. DISTRIBUTES $466,486 TO MEMBERS

WOODVILLE — A total of $466,486.00 was distributed to members at the 34th Annual meeting of the Tule River Cooperative Gins, Inc. held recently at the Veterans Memorial hall in Tipton.

The Tule River Gins, owned by 179 local farmers, is a cooperative that operates cotton gins at Woodville and at Quail, between Tipton and Pixley, with the main office located at Woodville.

Members and guests attending heard Manager Roscoe Honeycutt state that "Continuing with a long tradition of maximizing profits to the members of the Tule River gins, the association is able to return this year $23.61 per bale of cotton from successful ginning operations during 1970."

Guido Lombardi, president of the board, outlined the extensive modification and addition of ginning equipment undertaken last year which resulted in a better grade of cotton for ultimate sale to mill buyers at premium prices.

He also discussed various cost saving programs and related services available to all members of the Tule River Gins.

In other business, Dale Anderson, representing the National Cotton council, reported on the current research and promotional activities underway with industry funds. Also, members heard optimistic progress reports concerning the sales outlook for lint cotton and cotton seed products.

RODEO PARADE SATURDAY IN PORTERVILLE

PORTERVILLE — A western parade with 64 entries that will include some 500 persons will move through downtown Porterville Saturday, May 29, at 10 a.m. as a prelude to the final performance of the 24th annual Porterville rodeo, set for Saturday night at 8 o'clock in the Rocky Hill arena.

The parade will feature four bands - Sequoia Union Junior high, from Lemon Cove; Pioneer Junior high and Bartlett Junior high bands, from Porterville; and a combined band from Porterville high school and Monache high school.

Riding on a special float will be the 1971 Lindsay Orange Blossom Festival queen and her court: Queen Jaynie Martin and Attendants Nancy Chase, Kim Kanady, Kerry Keeley, and Joanie Sayre.

Porterville Business Folks "Go Western"

PORTERVILLE — Business people of Greater Porterville will "go western" today, tomorrow, and Saturday as Porterville Jaycees stage the 24th annual Porterville rodeo Friday, and Saturday nights in the Rocky Hill arena.

Featured during the three-day western event will be sidewalk sales: a roaming western band at the Village Shopping Center. Town and Country, and Smith's Complete market: a drawing for $100, $50, and $25 gift certificates in Smith's parking lot at 4:30 p.m., Saturday; a best western dress contest; and western window displays.

GROUND BREAKING FOR NEW PLANT

Sierra Sportswear Inc. officials will break ground June 3, 11:30 a.m., for a new plant in Porterville at the corner of South Jaye street and Springville avenue. Sierra Sportswear has been operating in temporary facilities in Porterville for several months.

Editorial Comment

Many people in the Porterville community contribute time and talent to the annual Porterville fair, and without these contributions there would be no fair, since this Porterville event operates on its own, without the benefit of state aid that goes to practically all fairs in California.

It is understandable that the "home folks" work on and take pride in the fair, but there is one "outsider" who also works and who also takes pride in what goes on at Porterville - and to him the fair board, along with hundreds of Future Farmers and 4-H club members, owes a great big "thank you."

That's H. "Skinner" Hardy, the nationally known auctioneer who comes back to Porterville year after year to call the fair's junior market livestock auction for benefit of 4-H and Future Farmer exhibitors, and whose father before him - the late Harry Hardy - did the same thing.

This year, Skinner did his usual fine job. Eighty head of steers averaged 44.5 cents a pound; 109 lambs averaged 84 cents a pound; 60 hogs brought an average 42 cents a pound, which represents a most commendable bit of work by Skinner in behalf of the fair and its young people.

We know that members of the livestock sale committee and members of the fair's board of directors are aware of and do appreciate what Skinner does each year.

Perhaps other folks do not know, in which case we hope these few words get across the message that even outside our community there are those who see enough value in the fair to donate their talents and give of their time.

To which we can only add - we hope in behalf of all of the people in the Porterville community - "Thank you, Skinner."

Grand champion steer and grand champion lamb of the 1961 Porterville fair were shown by Gordon Todd, Porterville FFA; Vic Child, Vandalia 4-H, had the grand champion hog.

With 365 days in the year and the Porterville fair using only three of them, the law of averages should produce something better than two days of clouds, cold and rain and only one day of real fair weather, but that's the way it was last week and, as a result, total attendance was off somewhat.

Grand champions of the 1961 Porterville Fair's Arabian Horse show were the stallion, Iben Mraff, exhibited by Donald Jones, of Porterville, and the mare, Roneyna, exhibited by Mrs. Roma Coe, of Chatsworth.

Dan Nuckols and William O. Collins have been selected by Porterville Post 20, The American Legion as representatives at California Boys' State in Sacramento. Terra Bella Post 779 will send David Howekamp.

Federal Funding Requested For East Side Canal

VISALIA — A request to Congress for funding projects related to East Side Canal development has been made in Washington, D.C. by James F. Sorensen, Visalia, secretary of the Central Valley East Side Project association.

Sorensen's testimony will be made before the public works subcommittees of the Senate and House Appropriations committee. It will be in support of these specific items:

1. Another $1,100,000 for the Folsom South project, to bring budgeted total for the 1971-72 fiscal year to $19,150,000, and extending the project to southern San Joaquin county in actual construction;

2. A $22,000,000 figure in construction of New Melones dam on the Stanislaus river and $900,000 for preliminary work in connection with Marysville dam in Yuba county, on the lower Feather river. Both of these items already have been entered in the presidential budget;

3. $181,000 for continued investigation of the East Side division, which is designed to bring 1½ million acre feet of supplemental water annually into deficient areas of the San Joaquin valley.

Sorensen said each of these projects is vital to development of the water supply and facilities required for eventual operation of the East Side project. The Visalia consultant also will be representing the North San Joaquin Water Conservation district, at Lodi, in his presentation on behalf of the Folsom South funding.

UNIQUE AGRI-BUSINESS TRAINING OFFERED IN CAREER DEVELOPMENT

FRESNO — A unique Agri-Business Career Development program, designed to prepare qualified salesmen for companies in the agri-business field, is now being operated in Fresno by James Hoffman.

The training program, designed so that it can be taken while holding another job, operates through the use of "field assignments," in which an individual is placed in the position of actually participating in agri-business sales and management situations.

Subjects covered in the four-month course are presented in relationship to selling, and each student is treated as an individual. Free placement assistance is given to students completing the course.

"Need for this type of training is increasing as the nation's huge agri-business industry grows," Hoffman says. "By being exposed to today's business practices and business situations, a student gets a realistic opportunity to develop his own abilities toward agri-business selling."

Subjects covered in the course include an appraisal of agri-business, the farm equipment industry, the fresh fruit and vegetable industry, the dairy industry and its related businesses, poultry, cotton, food wholesaling, and government activities in agriculture.

Much of the course, Hoffman says, involves creation of favorable attitudes toward business and customers, along with sales performances and motivation of the individual.

Details of the career development program can be obtained from Hoffman, Agri-business Career Development series, 1300 W. Shaw avenue, Fresno 93705, telephone 224-8434.

Mealybug infestation has been confined to Tulare county citrus crops so far, says Fielder, and the regulations have been adopted to check further spread into the San Joaquin valley. A small investment we made four years ago just paid off.

It's not unusual for a business to sponsor college scholarships.

But a while back, the Gas Company started a scholarship program that's a little different.

Instead of standing in line to offer grants to the straight A students and valedictorians, we looked for other kinds. Deserving students. Bright students who didn't get the top grades in high school—for good reasons. Maybe it was a job that got in the way. Or family problems. Or personal problems. Or just a late start.

Our program started out small. Only 10 students the first year. We gave them a hand with expenses. And offered them good-paying jobs during the summer.

Did it work? The degrees—in majors like Mathematics, Political Science, Social Science, Nursing, Engineering and Pre-Law, from schools like UCLA, Marymount, Cal State Los Angeles and USC—say it did.

Obviously we're proud of what these young men and women have accomplished. And their success has encouraged our program to grow. So far 67 students have been awarded Gas Company scholarships. This year we're again offering 18 in east, central and south central Los Angeles.

We figure it's an investment where we can't lose.

PRAIRIE CENTER 4-H COMBINES JUDGING PROJECT TOUR

By Diane Warden

PRAIRIE CENTER — Brad Caudill, 4-H All Star from the Lindsay 4-H club, brought his years of experience in judging to the Prairie Center 4-H club combined Project Tour and Judging contest. This is the first year Prairie Center has combined both.

The 4-H members met at the Warden's home in Strathmore Saturday, May 15 to sign up for the judging at 8:30. The judging and tour began with clothing provided by Mrs. James Fuller. The group of 26 members, leaders and parents moved on to judge the beef provided by project leader George Warden. Transportation by parents and leaders then loaded everyone into cars and moved to the Connors home on road 204 to tour and judge lambs and swine organized by swine leader Thomas Connor.

Next the members judged Wood Working and Foods at Mr. and Mrs. Leroy Spuhler's on road 192. Both are project leaders.

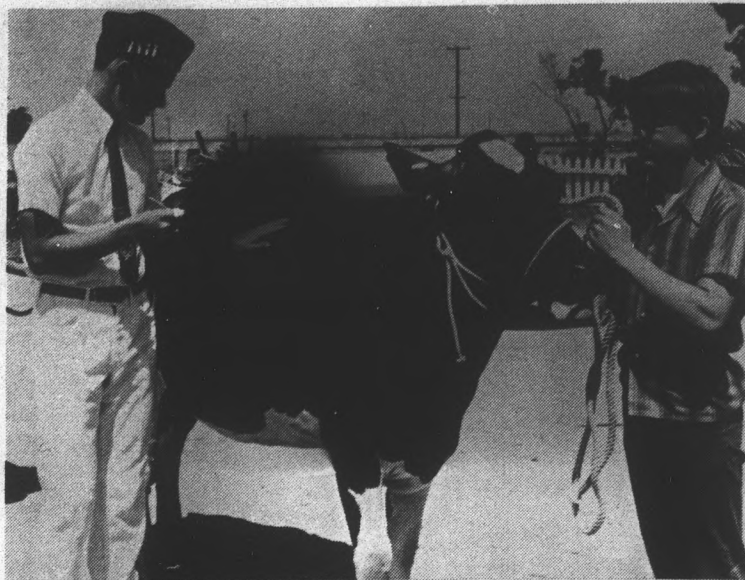

Back into the cars and everyone moved to the Horse Judging on Avenue 200 at Mrs. Janice Lizenberry's. Feed judging was set up by Junior Horse leader Tony Slaton.

At the home of Mrs. Howard Fisher photography was judged, combined with poultry, that Poultry Leader Hiram Loffler had set up for members to judge. Leaving from the Fisher's home on Avenue 192 the tour concluded the judging of dairy animals, provided by Calvin Hilty.

All members ate their sack lunch at the Hilty's. Everyone played and relaxed before meeting with club leader Mrs. Pat Lee at the Church of the Brethren for their record book work shop.

Co-chairman for the tour were Tony Slaton and Diane Warden. Chairman for the judging was Rebecca Fuller.

The two top winners for the judging were: Wanda Hilty, first; and Tina Heuer, second.

After hearing or reading the generally unhappy news items that the media seems to dote on we think maybe we should always write a happy column. For instance this week we could encourage you by reminding you that the aphs are leaving and the mildew is clearing up because of the warmer drier weather. You might also be glad to know that the burr clover and wild oats will also depart with summer sunshine.

This same beautiful weather, which is virtually uninterrupted by fog or rain for the next few months, will grow flowers, vegetables, and other plant life in elegant profusion. Few places in the world offer such a long growing season yet allow you to drive to the mountains or the beach for diversity. The mornings and evenings are particularly delightful times to meditate on the wonders of your garden and regain a proper perspective of the world. You should try it.

Plant philosophers and others are welcome to "E" Street north of Olive to meditate on items of garden pleasure. Whether it's a bright and cheery flower or something to cool their roots you will find it here awaiting your pleasure.

chapters at Porterville, Monache, Strathmore and Lindsay high school and from 4-H clubs in the community, when there was work to be done, both before and after the fair, in fact the Sunday morning cleanup of the livestock area by some 200 young people was more than something to see.

THERE WAS a smoothness about the fair this year that was lacking in some former fairs, in fact general opinion seemed to be that the fair "turned another corner, and is headed for bigger and better things."

NOT THE least of the fair's 1971 success hinged on a lot of go-go-go by Porterville Jaycee boys who ramrodded sale of commercial exhibit space and program advertising.

THERE WAS excellent cooperation between City of Porterville and fair officials this year. A new system of trash and straw removal in which the city participated worked out well, and city police and firemen on the grounds did a fine job. It seemed that the city "went all out" to help the fair wherever possible.

BUT THERE is still great opportunity for improvement. There must be a better way to light the outdoor exhibit area than by digging unsightly posts into the ballpark grass; there is always a need for new paint and new landscaping; there is always room for imagination and action in developing new fair features; a few maintenance projects in the livestock and exhibit areas might keep water from spreading out where it shouldn't be. But...

WE'VE SEEN them all, and by comparison, No. 24 was a good one, maybe the best. Now it's time to start planning No. 25.

The bottle-making machine was invented by Michael Owens in 1903.

Electricity is vital to your way of life.
So is a healthy environment.
We're working to bring you both.

Some people oppose nuclear power plants.

But why?

One of their concerns is radiation. Actually, natural background radiation is everywhere and always has been. It comes from the food you eat, the air you breathe, the materials used to build your home.

The San Onofre Nuclear Plant near San Clemente is a source of some radiation, too. The question is, how much additional radiation are people exposed to living near San Onofre? The answer: so little that an elaborate monitoring program has yet to detect any such radiation from operation of the plant.

People may also wonder what would happen to a nuclear power plant if there were a severe earthquake. The fact is, the design provisions for nuclear power plants against earthquakes far exceed those required by standard building codes.

The San Onofre plant, for instance, was constructed to withstand more severe shaking than from any quake ever recorded in Southern California. Besides, the nuclear reactor can be shut down immediately in an emergency.

Another concern may be the warm water released by nuclear power plants. At San Onofre, sea water is used to cool the plant condensers, and then the warmed water is returned to the sea.

To determine whether this harms the marine environment, Edison commissioned an oceanographic company of national stature to monitor the offshore waters both before and after the plant was built. Monitoring began in mid-1963 — four-and-a-half years before the plant commenced commercial operation — and has continued ever since.

Result: twenty-one reports reveal no significant changes in the marine environment. And that includes three years of plant operation.

In addition, the California State Department of Fish and Game made its own study of the same marine area in 1969. The Department concluded that the nuclear unit's operation did not appear to have had an adverse effect on the near-shore marine environment.

Based on these and other facts, we believe nuclear plants are a safe and sensible way to generate electricity. Clean, too. Since there's no combustion in a nuclear reactor, no by-products of combustion are released into the atmosphere.

At Edison, we plan to rely more and more on nuclear power to meet the growing need for electricity in the 14-county area we serve.
